

An Ordinary Person II

There I see the ordinary person,
look how extraordinary he is.
He has reached the sky,
but is still down to earth.

His devotion is his intellect,
and his heart, is his mind.
His gods are with him everywhere
as it is his heart where they reside.

Even with the power of eating the golden fruit,
he is not on top of the world, but he actually is.
He never wanted to be extraordinary,
inside he is only ordinary.

Although he is on the top of the world,
but to him, it is only the ground.
He is Hanuman,
He is an ordinary person.
